FREE VIDEO CALLS TO IRAQ AVAILABLE TO MILITARY FAMILIES

Proactive Communications, Inc. and TANDBERG team up with the Freedom Calls Foundation to connect troops and families through video KILLEEN, Texas, June 26, 2008 – In honor of July 4th and the sacrifices made by the men and women of the U.S. military, Proactive Communications, Inc. (PCI), TANDBERG and the Freedom Calls Foundation are proud to offer their video conferencing networks to families of Ft. Hood-based military personnel. As part of a nationwide program, free video conferencing calls will be available to military families in Killeen, Texas, enabling them to connect with family and friends stationed in Iraq. The nationwide events will take place on July 1, 2008, with extended Killeen dates through July 4 (see schedule below for details).

Through private, 30-minute video conferencing calls from various locations in Killeen, family and friends of military personnel currently deployed at Camp Prosperity in Iraq's Baghdad Green Zone will have the opportunity to communicate face-to-face with troops.

"We are overwhelmed by the positive responses we have received from our troops and their families," said Dan Vega, logistics manager at PCI. "The free video calls are just a small way for us to show how appreciative we are of the sacrifices our men and women in the military are making. What better day to honor them than on Independence Day."

"We are extremely honored to get the chance to come together with PCI and TANDBERG to connect troops and their families on Independence Day," said John Harlow, Executive Director Freedom Calls Foundation. "The contribution of resources by community citizens like PCI gives the Foundation the ability to provide our service men and women in the war zone with some semblance of home."

To reserve a call time, interested military families should submit a request at:

<http://www.formspring.com/forms/TANDBERG-Prosperity> or contact Lisa Watts at lisa.watts@tandberg.com by no later than 4:00 p.m. CDT on Thursday, July 3, 2008. Reservations will be made on a first-come, first-served basis.

About Freedom Calls Foundation

The Freedom Calls Foundation (www.freedomcalls.org) is a 501(c)3 Public Charity which has built a satellite network dedicated to providing state of the art video conferencing, telephone, and internet services to enable our troops in Iraq and Afghanistan to keep in touch with their families and loved ones at home - free of charge because there is no internet infrastructure in Iraq. The Foundation provides services to more than 50,000 soldiers and marines - free of charge - 24 hours per day, and the Army has requested that the foundation install eight additional facilities in Iraq and two in Afghanistan in the coming months, including more than 2,000 enterprise class video conferences from homes, medical centers and churches every month. The Foundation is authorized by the Secretary of the Army to provide communications services to the troops and their families and recently received a Commendation from the Army, a personal letter of appreciation from Major General Taguba, and personal thanks from President Bush at The White House. The Freedom Calls Foundation is supported solely by donations of corporations and the American people through the foundation's website (www.freedomcalls.org). The Foundation urgently needs funding to continue to bring families together.
